Melania Trump's RNC fashion: A scary statement

Updated: JULY 19, 2016 — 5:38 PM EDT

by Elizabeth Wellington, Fashion Writer @ewellingtonphl

Trump's foreignness stands in stark contrast to her husband's "Make America Safe Again" and "Make America Great Again" sloganeering, which he plans to accomplish with his anti-immigrant, anti-Muslim, anti-Black Lives Matter platform. In other words, anti-all things brown, as some might say.

So while Trump appeared flawless on the Cleveland stage Monday night, whether she intended it or not, her all-white ensemble displayed the kind of foreignness that is accepted by her husband's political party. To many, that outfit could be another reminder that in the G.O.P. white is always right.

DNC Fashion: Hillary Clinton looked presidential in an all-white pantsuit

Updated: JULY 26, 2016 — 9:52 PM EDT

by Elizabeth Wellington, Fashion Writer @ewellingtonphl

Clinton loves monochromatic looks. She's worn nearly every color of the rainbow. On Wednesday night she stunned in cobalt blue two-piece number. But it's rare we see her in all white. White is her that's both soft and strong. But it was appropriate. Her acceptance speech was a coming out of sorts. Clinton's white pantsuit is telling us she has arrived. This is surreal. A dream come true.

Most importantly Clinton's white suit told America loud and clear that she joyfully accepted the opportunity to run for president of the United States of America.

Two dads are better than one

By Ginger Gorman

Becoming parents was hard work for gay couple, Pete and Mark but they'd do it all over again if they had to.

A shiny child's bike lies on its side on the front lawn of an immaculate garden.

Around the back gay dads Pete and Mark chase their son's pet chickens around, trying to catch them.

Drake, 5, exclaims that the little birds are too fast for him.

It's a happy related family scene. But it wasn't an easy road to get there. After many hurdles Drake was born by surrogacy in Russia.

"We decided that we would have a child, that it was time for us to have a family. We wanted to experience the joys of fatherhood and we started our surrogacy over in the United States back in 2002," Pete said.

At the time, Pete and Mark were living and working in the ...

OLD BOY'S HORROR, RAISED BY GLOBAL PEDOPHILE RING

PHIL A DOBBS/ABC NEWS
June 29, 2013, 5:59 pm

HE was a child star but all for the wrong reasons. He made his debut at just 22 months old - not for a toy store advertisement or even a family-friendly PG film. This was for hardcore global pornographic syndication. He would be filmed being sexually abused by his adoptive parents and at least eight other pedophiles in Australia, France, Germany and the United States. His horrific introduction to the insidious world of pedophilia dated back to 2005 when his Russian mother sold him for $5,000 to a member of Boy Lovers - a sophisticated global network of men whose sexual preference are boys aged between six and eight years old. The boy was "adopted" by American Mark J Neaton who lived in Brisbane and Cairns with his Australian boyfriend, Peter Truong.
